TEN KILLED; MANY WOUNDED

Queen & Crescent Train Crashes Into Siding With Disastrous Results

(By Associated Press.)
New Orleans, Sept. 18.—Search was being made tonight for train wreckers believed to have caused the death of ten persons and the injury of thirty others, by derailing Queen and Crescent train No. 2, at 3 a. m. today at Livingston, Ala. Bloodhounds late today failed to pick up a trail. Some of the injured, taken to Meridian, Miss., hospitals, are in a serious condition and the death toll of the wreck may be increased.

William Jones of Birmingham, Ala., engineer of the wrecked train, who lost his life, is said to have been given the "clear" signal at the last automatic block post before the wreck occurred. Supporters of the wrecked theory think some one tampered with the switch in the brief interval after the train passed the block and before it struck the switch. It also is said that the switch was thrown against the train, that the switch light was out and that the oil tank of the light was empty.

The dead:
Marcellus C. Hasselle, Chattanooga, Tenn.

C. T. Fallon, Stonewall, Miss.
Clarence June, Hammond, La.
Elsie Smith, 5-year-old daughter of Mrs. L. M. Smith, Gulfport, Miss.

William Jones, engineer, Birmingham, Ala.
John A. Preston, Abilene, Texas.
M. J. McDonough, Birmingham, Ala., assistant freight agent of the Frisco system.

Mrs. Harriet Bollinger, Baltimore, believed to be foreign missionary.
Felix Hardin, mail clerk.
Unidentified negro woman.

The train, composed of six sleepers, two day coaches, mail, baggage and express cars, left Meridian shortly after midnight. It was running at a good rate of speed when it struck the switch, where the engine crashed into a loaded freight car. All of the train except the last three sleepers piled on to the engine in a heap. Nearly every person in these cars was hurt.

Mrs. L. M. Smith, a Pullman passenger, was found unconscious and badly injured with her lifeless child in her arms. All of the passengers who escaped serious injury were thrown from their berths and suffered minor hurts.

Special to The Intelligencer.

DR. STACKHOUSE CALLS MEETING

He Asks Cotton Congress to Meet in Columbia Next Thursday

(By Associated Press.)
Dillon, Sept. 18.—Wade Stackhouse, president of the South Carolina division of the Southern Cotton Congress, has issued the following call:

"I hereby call a meeting of the South Carolina division of the Southern Cotton Congress to meet at the Jefferson hotel in Columbia, S. C., Thursday, September 24. The president of each county is asked to be present and in event he cannot come, he is asked to name an alternate to represent him.

Those counties not having an organization are urged to send a representative, as we hope that each of the 44 counties in South Carolina will be represented. We shall be glad to have from each county as many representatives as they see fit to send. Our meetings are open to the public and any one interested in the cotton situation is invited to be present.

"On Thursday, October 1, a meeting is called at the court house, 11 a. m., in each county in the state to consider what our request, if any, shall be to the special session of the legislature called to meet October 6.

"At our state meeting we are going to consider two plans by which the legislature can help us. First, we hope to have a state warehouse bill in working shape to present to the legislature on October 6. Second, we will take up the discussion of state control of acreage.

"The European war will be a great benefaction to us if we can work out a plan to curtail acreage when we have made a surplus. If we can do this, we have a monopoly crop almost as permanent as real estate and which will in time make the south the richest agricultural country on the face of the earth."
